

go

M A G A Z I N E

MARCH - APRIL 2019

Ireland's Islands
Beaufort and Beaufort
How Has AAA Saved You Money?

Lowcountry love

AAA.COM/GO

See page 1 to stay connected.

AAA
DIGITAL
VEHICLE
INSIGHT

New AAA Digital
Vehicle Insight technology available at your local
AAA Car Care location!
See page 6 for details!

ENTER TO WIN A
$3,000 AAA
 Gift Certificate.
 Go to pages 20 & 21
 and fill out the card.

INSIDE

MARCH - APRIL 2019

Go Connect

- 2 Discounts & Rewards
Exclusive spring savings for AAA Members
- 4 Membership
Members share their favorite way to save with AAA
- 5 Travel
Our top 5 tropical islands
- 6 Automotive
Using the latest technology to better serve members
Protect your car with a AAA Extended Warranty plan
- 8 Insurance
Beware of flood damaged cars
- Traffic Safety
Don't stream and drive

AAA.COM/GO

Editor's Escape:
Fun in Fort Lauderdale,
Florida

Online Exclusive:
Plan a Visit to the
Wright Brothers
National Monument

Go Here

- 10 Battling Beauforts
Two towns. Two states. Numerous charms.
- 14 Carolina Road Trip Planner
March/April 2019
- 16 Three Cheers for the Beard!
Facial hair takes center stage in Charleston, S.C.
- 22 Mills to Meals
Historic mills get a new lease on life

Go Around the World

- 18 Lands' End
Explore these lesser-known Irish islands
- 26 On the Horizon
The newest ship from Carnival Cruise Line offers something for everyone

Go Explore

- 28 McBee, South Carolina

MARCH - APRIL 2019 1

Facebook.com/AAACarolinas | Twitter.com/AAACarolinas
 AAA.com/AAATalks | Instagram.com/AAACarolina | @AAAGoMagazine

GO MAGAZINE
 VOLUME 99, NUMBER 2
 MARCH - APRIL 2019

President: David E. Parsons
Editor: Kristy Tolley Associate Editor: Janean Flowe Creative Director: Wayne Kan
Senior Designer: Amanda Johnson Graphic Designer: Morgan Keith
Editorial Inquiries: Editor, ktolley@aaacarolinas.com or 6800 AAA Drive, Charlotte, N.C. 28212
Postmaster: Send address changes to Go Magazine Address Change, AAA Carolinas, PO Box 29600, Charlotte, N.C. 28229-9600.
 Periodicals postage paid, Charlotte and additional mailing offices. A publication of AAA Carolinas. Go Magazine (ISSN 10771808)
 PE# 220620 is published six times a year by AAA Carolinas, 6800 AAA Drive, Charlotte, N.C. 28212. The subscription rate is $1 annually (included in principal AAA Membership dues). Nonmember subscription rate is $3 annually.
To Advertise: Rickles and Company
 Scott Rickles 770-331-9562, srickles@aol.com | Dan Tomkiewicz 770-640-1681, dtomkiewicz@earthlink.net
Privacy Policy: Please visit AAA.com/Privacy for details.
 Cover: Hunting Island State Park. Photo courtesy of DiscoverSouthCarolina.com. See story on page 10.

GO HERE

Fishing in Beaufort, S.C.

BATTLING BEAUFORTS

THESE COASTAL CAROLINAS COMMUNITIES SHARE MORE THAN A NAME.

BY CELE & LYNN SELDON

We say Bew-fert, they say Bo-fert, but – however you pronounce it – we’re talking about two top coastal Carolina towns. Named after English politician Henry Somerset, Duke of Beaufort, these charming and historic county seats have much more in common than their names. And, learning the tale of two towns is as simple as hitting the road.

Wild horses in Beaufort, N.C.

Beaufort S.C.

[bew - fert]

Located on Port Royal Island in the heart of the Sea Islands that stretch from Jacksonville to Charleston, Beaufort — pronounced bew-fert — is the county seat of Beaufort County and is known for its lush Lowcountry landscape, antebellum architecture and genteel Southern hospitality. The adopted hometown of beloved writer Pat Conroy, and the setting of classic films including The Big Chill, Forrest Gump and The Prince of Tides, Beaufort is rich in history, military might and often bestowed with “top small town” accolades.

Woods Memorial Bridge in Beaufort, S.C.

History & Festivals

The waterfront is one of Beaufort's top attractions. With its downtown set squarely along the Beaufort River, the Henry C. Chambers Waterfront Park is the heartbeat of the community. Overlooking the Beaufort marina, the park features a well-landscaped green space, communal swings, playgrounds and a pavilion stage for live performances. It backs up to the three-block-long downtown shopping and dining district.

The park is also home to many festivals. Since 1956, Beaufort has celebrated the importance of its waterways with a massive 10-day festival each summer: the Beaufort Water Festival. Featuring regattas, fishing tournaments, raft racing, water skiing, air shows, arts and crafts, concerts, food and fireworks, the festival is a summer highlight.

Other area attractions: the story of the first European colonial capital in the Santa Elena History Center; the history of the original Gullah community at the Penn Center on nearby St. Helena Island; and nearby Hunting Island State Park, among others. Many of these attractions are included on several walking and van tours offered by Beaufort Tours.

Stay

Quintessential Southern inns and bed and breakfasts are found throughout the historic district. From intimate rooms in historic mansions like Anchorage 1770 and the Cuthbert House Inn    to more sprawling accommodations and cottages at The Rhett House Inn    and

The Beaufort Inn

Beaufort N.C.

[bo - fert]

Located 350 miles northeast, Beaufort, North Carolina — pronounced bo-fert — is located along the Beaufort Inlet, a channel that leads to the Atlantic Ocean. Part of the Crystal Coast, Beaufort is North Carolina's third oldest city and is the county seat of Carteret County.

Member Savings

Receive $2 off van tours with Beaufort Tours (S.C.) and $1 off admission to the Beaufort Historic Site (N.C.). Visit AAA.com/Discounts for more savings!

Nautical Lures

Much of Beaufort's attractions also center around the water. The North Carolina Maritime Museum on Front Street features exhibits about Beaufort's maritime history, the seafood industry, life-saving stations, lighthouses and watercraft. Perhaps its most popular exhibit is

"Blackbeard and Queen Anne's Revenge," which illuminates the life of the early 18th-century swashbuckler.

Enjoy a ferry boat ride to see the wild horses on Rachel Carson Reserve or Shackleford Banks, climb the lighthouse at Cape Lookout National Seashore, or dive the shipwrecks of the Graveyard of the Atlantic. Other options: discovering Beaufort's Colonial past at the Beaufort Historic Site: historic Fort Macon; the North Carolina Aquarium at Pine Knoll Shores or one of many walking or biking tours with Hungry Town Tours.

The spring Beaufort Wine & Food experience celebrates its dynamic culinary scene with wine dinners and tastings, an epicurean village and more. Summer's Old Homes & Gardens Tour is also popular.

Stay

Beaufort also offers charming inns and bed and breakfasts in the historic district and along the waterfront. Traditional Southern B&Bs in historic homes include the Inn on Turner and Pecan Tree Inn, while more modern, waterfront accommodations can be found at friendly Beaufort Inn (all rated). ♡